5.1 Approximate number of entities expected to be actively involved in the development of this project: 8
5.2 Scope: This recommended practice describes electroencephalography (EEG) Biofeedback (neurofeedback) systems and software to optimize the quality and availability of information available to device users.

5.3 Is the completion of this standard dependent upon the completion of another standard: No
5.4 Purpose: This recommended practice describes the minimum standards sufficient to verify that conforming EEG Biofeedback systems provide quality biofeedback results and information that is clear.

5.5 Need for the Project: There is considerable variation in the marketplace for EEG biofeedback (neurofeedback) equipment, software, and user training. There is no stated set of minimum requirements ensuring that systems provide effective and meaningful feedback, and that system operators can understand and interpret results. This recommended practice puts forth minimum guidelines for the design and production of neurofeedback instruments and software, to support quality of feedback.

5.6 Stakeholders for the Standard: The stakeholders include EEG device manufacturers, clinicians, clients, regulatory agencies, professional organizations, researchers, and educators.
